

Lumbar Puncture/Epidural Trainer

PROCEDURAL TRAINER WITH ULTRASOUND

The Lumbar Puncture/Epidural trainer includes the lumbar vertebrae, iliac crest, spinous process, ligamentum flavum, the epidural space and dura. The trainer can be positioned in an upright sitting or a lateral decubitus position. The lumbar puncture procedure allows the user to penetrate the subarachnoid space and CSF is present when the stylet is removed. The epidural procedure allows the user to enter the epidural space and insert an epidural catheter.

SKILL DEVELOPMENT:

- › Use ultrasound to identify landmarks
- › Perform a lumbar puncture
- › Insert an epidural catheter

FEATURES:

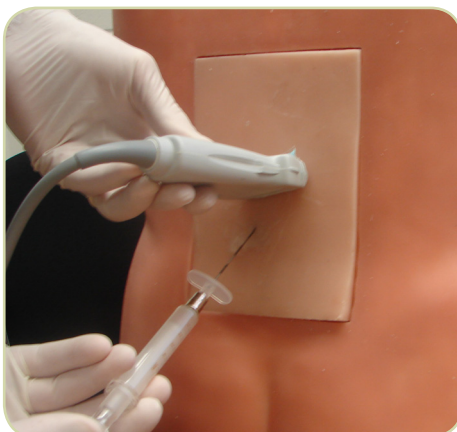

- › Anatomically correct with external and internal landmarks
- › Trainer can be positioned upright or on its side
- › Tissue can be filled and refilled with fluid for repeated procedures
- › Tissue is durable and replaceable

REPLACEABLE TISSUES:

Practice a variety of procedural techniques on the same trainer with interchangeable replaceable tissues. Experience variances in disc thickness and soft tissue depth on top of the vertebrae.

Replaceable tissue options include:

- › Normal Adult Tissue
- › Obese Adult Tissue
- › Geriatric Adult Tissue
